Fra Presidenten

Holiday Greetings!

Our Sons of Norway mission statement includes the phrase "to promote and preserve the heritage and culture of Norway." Some of you will make a special effort to do this during the festive season through special Norwegian/Scandinavian customs and family traditions. (A friend's family sings around their Christmas tree after a delectable holiday dinner. Their dessert includes a special rice pudding with one hidden almond in the serving bowl. The one who gets the portion with that almond gets a prize!)

In your intergenerational gatherings try to include stories of your family's past, especially ones that celebrate your Norwegian and Scandinavian connection. Let the younger ones hear those stores so they can appreciate their history and heritage. (Perhaps you can entice the children with special Norwegian treats as you share your interesting memories) Sharing family stories is one way of preserving the heritage and culture of Norway

Whatever you do, savor the time you spend together with conversation, special meals, games, music, and all the activities that bring you joy as we celebrate the birth of Christ.

God Jul og Gott Nytt Ar!

An Ole and Lena Joke

Lars said to Ole, "Your first wedding anniversary is coming up. How are you and Lena going to celebrate?"

Ole said, "I was thinking about taking Lena back to the Old Country."

Lars said, "Dats a pretty big thing that most people would do for a milestone anniversary like 10 or 20 years. If you do this big thing now what will you do for the milestone anniversary?"

Ole said, "Maybe I'll go back and get her."

A Norske Saga from the South
By Ole and Lena (a.k.a. Ron and Sharon Lance)

Hi Folks!

We had a safe trip down here to the Valley. We left Cedar Falls at noon on Thursday and got to South Haven, KS the first night and to Schulenburg, TX on Friday night and then we got to our park and unhooked from our travel trailer at 5 pm.

We got our utilities turned on and flushed the water lines and had a bite to eat, took showers, and "hit the sack". Sunday we listened to Christian Crusaders and had brunch with friends Lyle & Marlene Brim and Frank Conroy (who stays in our park year around) at Diaz' Diner downtown Mission and had a great time visiting and catching up on the summer happenings. Frank will miss our first streets Wednesday Morning Breakfast at Danny's #1 on Tom Landry downtown Mission as he has back problems and needs surgery to fuse 3 more vertebrae in his back to alleviate his pain.

We've been 85-90+ degrees every day so far and no rain and it's been really nice down here. We've pretty much got everything washed and we're able to settle down. I had a new cabinet built here and it was sitting on our deck when we arrived. Now I need to stain and varnish and bring it in to our home so I can get some of the clutter cleaned up. This should have our place looking as good as it can be for us.

Sharon went yesterday with her brother to his eye doctor appointment and the place was really busy and it took them about 6 hours to get everything done. They brought home each of us a Jumbo Jack eat. Those are good sandwiches---almost as good as a Whataburger which are the best!

We've had our first Monday Morning Meeting which was short and sweet, just the way we like it. They already had tickets on sale for the Thanksgiving Dinner at our Rec Hall. All is going well here in the Valley for now.

Take care, and "tanks for all of yur verk."

Ole and Lena

Painting Donated to Sons of Norway Foundation

Arthur Frick, Wartburg College professor emeritus, gave his painting "Geiranger Fjord, Norway, Nearing Sundown 2017" to the Sons of Norway Foundation. Professor Frick presented the painting to Jon Tehven, Past Sons of Norway International President and current Sons of Norway Foundation Vice Chair. The painting will be on exhibit at the Sons of Norway headquarters in Minneapolis.

Professor Frick taught art 40 years at Wartburg College and 20 years at the American University of Beirut, Lebanon. He is listed in Who's Who in American Art. His works have been exhibited in Mexico, Greece, Italy, Lebanon, Egypt, Syria, Jordan, Chicago, St Louis, Detroit, Milwaukee, New Orleans and New York City. Some of his paintings are on permanent exhibit at the Waverly Area Veterans Post and Wartburg College in Waverly, Iowa. His sculptures are located in Waverly, Miami, Beirut and Los Angeles.

About the painting, Frick says, "The grandeur and mysterious presence of the Norwegian Fjord has always intrigued me, as well as the ways Norwegians have so closely integrated their farms and towns in the topography of place, creating a sense of oneness. Color relationships and an embracing atmosphere are unique, thus enhancing many artistic possibilities of personal interpretations."

Plans for “authentic Viking settlement” on Island

A Manxman is hoping to give up his life working in technology to become a “Viking full time” by creating an authentic settlement from the Viking era. Chris Hall has applied to turn four acres of land in Sandygate [Yorkshire, England] into a place where people can visit and learn about the island’s Norse history.

The plans include building a number of wooden structures to emulate a traditional settlement. Mr. Hall said he wants people to come in and “step back over a thousand years”. Vikings are thought to have arrived on the Isle of Man in the 800s, trading at first before settling

Mr. Hall said the development is set to include an area known as “Folkvangr” meaning “field of the people”, for visitors to go to after taking part in activities within the woodland on the land, including shield building.

The area would be used to stage re-enactments with people trained in weapon fighting, as well as provide an opportunity for children to try out their own creations.

Plans include the building of a farmhouse, barn and pens for animals, where farmers in authentic dress would teach children about traditional practices.
